HUNTER STERN

Sparrow

This meticulously designed two-bedroom tiny home combines modern style with exceptional durability and functionality. Built with a solid foundation of concrete slabs and a robust mix of steel and wood framing, this home offers the perfect balance of strength, stability, and aesthetic appeal. The steel and wood frame ensures lasting quality while adding a touch of natural warmth and elegance.
Inside, you'll find an open and airy layout, where large windows flood the space with natural light, creating a bright and welcoming atmosphere.

The elegant internal finishes reflect a sophisticated yet cozy feel, with high-quality materials throughout that elevate every corner of the home.
The well-appointed kitchen, living, and dining areas seamlessly flow into one another, making the most of the home's compact design. The two comfortable bedrooms offer peaceful retreats, while the full bathroom features modern fixtures and stylish finishes. Additionally, the conveniently located powder room adds an extra level of convenience for guests and residents alike.
Perfect for those seeking a sustainable, stylish, and compact living solution, this tiny home delivers everything you need without compromising on comfort or elegance.
